

Summer Weather Hazard Preparedness and Response

Safety

Protecting What Matters Most

Summer, with its heat and inclement weather, can produce hazards that threaten the well-being of your people. In 2019, the U.S. National Weather Service reported:

- 63 deaths and 165 injuries caused by heat
- 92 fatalities and 45 injuries caused by flooding
- 100 fatalities and 841 injuries caused by storm conditions¹

Rely on the Fisher Scientific channel for the products and solutions you need to prepare and respond to summer weather hazards, including:

- Heat stress
- Sun exposure
- Wildfires, floods, hurricanes, and other seasonal disasters
