

Ease Your Transition

Welcome Back

As you and your colleagues transition back to the lab environment, rely on the Fisher Scientific channel for the products you need most. We are working with an expanded group of suppliers globally to increase our inventories and expediting freight modes wherever possible to help ensure you have what you need.

Whether you're just getting started again or continuing to pursue highly relevant research, we look forward to serving you.

Key Benefits of Your Supply Agreement

As your UPenn Prime Vendor supplier for laboratory products, you'll receive the following benefits when you order through the Fisher Scientific channel.
